

LALLY STILL HAS INFLUENCE.

Witness Delati Appears, but the Trial Is Again Put Off.

Foliceman Smith's Illness Now the Outset Cause of Delay.

The trial of Michael Lally, the man with a "pull," has been postponed again. His case was set down on the calendar of Part III, in General Sessions this morning, and his accuser, the long-absent Witness Delati, was present, but Assistant District Attorney Townsend announced that he could not go with the trial, because of the absence of Policeman J. W. Smith, of the Seventh Precinct.

Smith, he said, was one of the most important witnesses for the prosecution, and it was necessary to have his testimony in order to fully present his case. Mr. Townsend said he had learned that Smith was sick with consumption and could not appear in court. It would, therefore, be necessary to take his deposition, and as the term of court closed tomorrow, he had no alternative but to put the case over until next term.

Lally was out in the hallway with his lawyer, E. E. Price. The latter did not object to the delay proposed by Mr. Townsend, and he and his client left the court-house perfectly contented with the result.

Mr. Townsend also said that another of the prosecution's witnesses had died since Lally was indicted, and that this had placed more difficulty in the way of the prosecution. It is about eighteen months since Lally, who was then a bridge policeman, was indicted for the murder of a woman, because the latter refused to give him a bribe. Lally was covered from his wound and went to Italy. Recently he returned to the United States, and Lally, who had secured several delays after his indictment for assault in the first degree, and had openly boasted of his pull, was brought to the front again.

His case was re-arrested from the master records of the District Attorney's office, and there seemed to be a probability that he would at last be brought to trial. Today's developments seem to indicate that the "pull" is getting in its work again, and there is no telling for how much longer his case may be delayed.

That Lally is still maintaining his reputation as one of the most desperate ruffians of the Fourth Ward is shown by the fact that only last week he was charged by Timothy Mahoney, a young truckman, who was brutally beaten in James Durkin's saloon at Roosevelt and Water streets last Thursday morning, with being one of his assassins. Lally was not arrested.

THREE NEGROES LYNCHED.

Shot by Masked Men After Confession to Criminal Assault.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. GALVESTON, TEX., June 29.—A special from Colmes Nell says that three negroes, Prince Woods, Tom Smith and Henry Gaines, arrested on the charge of criminal assaulting the ladies of the Shreveport family near Spurgis last Friday, confessed their crime and had been lynched.

Upon the confession being made ten men were deputized to convey the negroes to Woodville jail. When about a mile from Spurgis they noticed a lot of men hanging apparently from the roadside bushes. Fifty masked and armed men then came out and demanded the release of the negroes, emphasizing their demand by leveling their guns upon the guards.

The guards were told to retreat their steps a few paces, and a few minutes later a volley from the guns of the masked men told the fate of the negroes.

When the deputies returned to the spot they found the three negroes literally riddled with bullets and all dead.

GRANITE STRIKE STILL ON.

Union Unable to Agree with the Manufacturers.

Paving Work Resumed by Several Contractors with Non-Union Men.

The strikers Grant and eight other members of the Paving-Cutters' Union returned from Boston today, where they had been holding a conference with the granite manufacturers' Association in hopes of reaching some settlement of the granite-cutters and pavers strike.

The different features of the difficulty, they said, were fully discussed, and the conference agreed upon everything excepting the Union's main point, which was the date for making the annual scale of prices.

It was because the manufacturers refused to agree upon May 1 as the date for the signing of the annual scale of prices that the granite-cutters struck work the first week in May. The bosses would agree to no later date than Jan. 1, and at the conference yesterday declared that unless the strikers accepted that date no agreement could be reached.

The strikers offered to compromise by naming April 1, but the manufacturers were obdurate and refused all such propositions. Hence the strike is still on.

Contractor John G. Smith has three non-union pavers and several non-union rammer-men and laborers at work in Park place. Contractors William J. James, Pollock and William Garrity also have put non-union men at work, and are going ahead with their contracts.

Facy all declare that they will make no terms with the pavers; that if the men wish to return to work they may do so, but only on the same terms as the non-union men.

NO. 47'S COMMENCEMENT.

Thirty-four Graduates from the Girls' Grammar School.

There were thirty-four graduates at the Commencement exercises today of Female Grammar School No. 47, Twelfth street, east of Fifth avenue.

Rev. Dr. George Alexander addressed the graduates, and Dr. W. W. Walker, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided. The musical part of the programme was under the direction of Miss Alice Baine, and Edith May Rutter were the soloists.

Miss Nora Frances Hogan delivered the valedictory.

The card medals were awarded to Ida M. Clark and Ivy S. Dugan for general excellence, Jennie T. Clark, Annie L. C. Davis, Edith May Rutter, and Edith May Rutter were the honor students.

THE OLD, OLD GAME.

Circular, Steerer, Green-Goods, Police Court, Jail, Back in Kansas.

John Cook, the alleged green-goods steerer, who with Lucinda Weidie, of Houston County, Kan., his victim, was arrested yesterday at the New Jersey Central Railroad Depot, Jersey City, on a charge of swindling, was this morning committed by Police Justice O'Donnell, of Jersey City, to await the action of the Grand Jury. Weidie is also held as a witness.

According to Weidie's story he was swindled by the regular old-fashioned, familiar green-goods game, satchel, green paper and all.

Policeman O'Donnell said he was determined if possible to make an example in this case, and if necessary would carry it to the United States courts in order to put a stop to this outrageous system of swindling.

FATHER YODYSZUS GIVES BAIL.

His Housekeeper, Mary Fowler, Charges Him with Assault.

He Was Arrested, and Is Held for Trial Next Tuesday.

Rev. Father Matthias Yodyszus, rector of St. George's Roman Catholic Church, on North Tenth street, near Bedford avenue, Williamsburg, was a prisoner in the Lee Avenue court this morning, having been arrested on a warrant sworn out by his housekeeper, Mary Fowler, who charges him with assault on the third degree.

As early as 7 o'clock on the floor of the reverend prisoner was well represented in the court-room, which was crowded to the very doors.

The court officers had frequently to rap for order, as the priest's adherents and opponents in the congregation discussed, more or less animatedly, their theories as to his guilt or innocence.

Father Yodyszus appeared in court at 8:30 o'clock accompanied by Policeman Kelly, who served the warrant on him, and immediately took a seat within the railing, where he remained bravely waiting the perquisition from his boss. He did not wear the Roman habit.

The complaining witness, seen after appearing and took her seat near the priest, while the friends of Father Yodyszus looked on.

Father Yodyszus, while waiting for his case to be called, was seen by an evening newspaper reporter, and said:

"The woman merely wants money; that is all she is trying to blackmail me, but she will not let me go until I have paid her $500. I am a poor man, and I cannot do that."

When arrested by Policeman Kelly, the priest was getting out of bed at his residence, 134 Bedford avenue, and was brought to court without concentrating any mass, as he had many duties of the Roman Catholic clergy.

A plea of not guilty having been entered by Father Yodyszus, Judge Connolly set down the case for trial July 5.

The woman, Mary Fowler, appeared very nervous as she appeared at the bar with the priest, and the priest seemed apparently much excited.

He had been tried at 2:00, which Father Yodyszus furnished himself.

ALL PLEADED GUILTY.

Carpenter, Creamer and Bjorkman, Who Robbed Dix & Poyte of $57,000.

Oscar Creamer and William E. Carpenter, the clerks for Bankers Dix & Poyte, of 45 Wall street, who stole about $50,000 worth of bonds and $7,000 in cash from their employers, and Oscar Bjorkman, alias James L. White, a Brooklyn saloon-keeper, who deposited in the Park National Bank a part of the stolen money, appeared in Part I, General Sessions, this morning for trial.

Carpenter, who had been employed by Dix & Poyte for sixteen years and is thirty-five years old, had already confessed to Supt. Lyman, saying that he had been an accomplice with Creamer, temporarily the bank's bookkeeper.

Creamer is only nineteen years old. His home is with his sister at 425 Hicks street, Brooklyn.

He and Bjorkman, learned the British Steamship Company, bound for Copenhagen, Denmark, a few days before the robbery was discovered. They were arrested April 23, while the ship was in that port, and were afterwards returned to this country.

The three prisoners pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny in the first degree, and Creamer and Bjorkman to the additional charge of forgery in the second degree. They were remanded for sentence.

SHE LOVES AN L ROAD MAN.

Pretty Edith Conklin Has Her Brother Committed.

He Strenuously Objected to Her Marrying Albert Davis.

Pretty, rosy-cheeked, pretty black-eyed Edith M. Conklin, twenty years old, was a complainant in the Yorkville Police Court this morning against her elder brother, Charles W. Conklin, who lives at 450 Amsterdam avenue, where also live his mother and sister.

Edith said that last night Charles entered the room where she and her mother were sitting, and, addressing her, said:

"Do you still propose to carry out your plans and marry that man (referring to Albert Davis, an employee of the Ninth Avenue Elevated Railway) on next Sunday?"

She replied affirmatively, whereupon, he says, he seized her by the throat and forcing her upon her knees, kissed angrily:

"I'll kill you sooner than see you the wife of that man."

Edith, who is of strong, athletic build, was more than a physical match for Charles, whom she compelled to relax his hold.

He then locked the door, putting the key in his pocket, fastened the windows of the room and vowed that neither of them should leave until Edith promised to give up her matrimonial ideas.

For two hours he kept them prisoners, alternating coaxing and threatening his sister. At last, on Mrs. Conklin declaring that she would smash the window and rouse the neighborhood if not released, Charles reluctantly unlocked the door.

Edith then went to the sixty-fifth street police station and lodged a complaint against her brother, who was subsequently arrested. Which Edith had continued her story Justice Hogan asked the brother what he had to say. Charles, who is a slight-built, dark-haired, rather good-looking young man, responded:

"Judge, I cannot bear to see my sister thrown away; the man whom she means to marry is not only much beneath her socially, but is unable to provide for her as well as I can. Why, Judge, he only makes $10 a week."

Justice Hogan told him that his latter fact did not signify, that he might be able to do better some day.

He could go nothing better to do. Your Honor, he is very educated. He has not the first rudiments of an education, and if he was to lose his job he would have to drive a truck or something even more menial."

Justice Hogan asked if he had stated all of the grounds of his opposition, and Charles responded:

"Personally, I have nothing against the man, but my father on his dying bed (there sobbed Charles) interdicted three months ago made strong objections to him and said that Edith must never marry him."

"I didn't intend to harm my sister, Judge, but I had to frighten her out of her intentions."

At this Edith stuck her pretty nose skyward, and Justice Hogan remarked that she didn't look like a girl who could be easily frightened.

Charles then told the court that he would leave his mother's house and not interfere with his sister any more. The Justice made him retract his promise and then discharged him.

At this an expression of genuine concern came over Edith's face and she said:

"Judge, I am really afraid that he will kill my mother and I'll be allowed to go. He has threatened her many times and even tried personal violence. I fear he is insane and I am sure of it."

"Are you really in fear of your brother?" queried Justice Hogan.

Edith replied that such was the case, whereupon another affidavit was taken, and, after a short recess, the case was called.

He strenuously objected to her marrying Albert Davis.

He is Not at the West End Hotel with His $500,000 Bride.

In dramatic circles, today the chief topic is the reported marriage of Arthur Pate, late tenor of the "Trip to Chinatown" and "King Rialto" companies, to an attractive English widow with an alleged fortune of $500,000.

It was first stated the couple were married Monday night by the Rev. Dr. Prescott, assistant pastor of the "Little Church Around the Corner." Dr. Prescott denied that part of the story this morning, and said the only persons married at his church were a coachman and his sweetheart.

As a club and one of the House Committee. A fellow-member of the club said this morning: "With I guess Arthur has struck it pretty rich. He was at the club last Sunday and told us he was fairly wallowing in wealth. The pretty widow used to drive here in her brougham and call for him. We never heard her name, but she got into a tangle with him the first night he opened in 'Rialto.' I am willing to believe he married her. They say that he is at the West End Hotel, Long Island."

Maurice Abbey, of the Casino Company, is an intimate friend of Pate's, and he said: "I saw the lady on Tuesday last, and she was a young woman who was anxious to see him. He told Abbey he had an appointment to meet her in the theater and if Central Park, which is said, he kept, and found the widow in a brougham, in which the two drove away together."

An Evening World reporter who went to the West End Hotel and Long Branch this morning was told that Arthur Pate was not there, and that he knew nothing of his whereabouts. His name was not on the hotel register.

McCaffery in Richmond Jail. Furze McCaffery, who on Monday attempted to kill Jeremiah Lyons, a watchman on the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad at Tottenville, by putting a quiver of a pound of Paris green in his coffee, was this morning committed to the County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Lyons is out of danger.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

TENOR PACIE NOT FOUND.

He Is Not at the West End Hotel with His $500,000 Bride.

In dramatic circles, today the chief topic is the reported marriage of Arthur Pate, late tenor of the "Trip to Chinatown" and "King Rialto" companies, to an attractive English widow with an alleged fortune of $500,000.

It was first stated the couple were married Monday night by the Rev. Dr. Prescott, assistant pastor of the "Little Church Around the Corner." Dr. Prescott denied that part of the story this morning, and said the only persons married at his church were a coachman and his sweetheart.

As a club and one of the House Committee. A fellow-member of the club said this morning: "With I guess Arthur has struck it pretty rich. He was at the club last Sunday and told us he was fairly wallowing in wealth. The pretty widow used to drive here in her brougham and call for him. We never heard her name, but she got into a tangle with him the first night he opened in 'Rialto.' I am willing to believe he married her. They say that he is at the West End Hotel, Long Island."

Maurice Abbey, of the Casino Company, is an intimate friend of Pate's, and he said: "I saw the lady on Tuesday last, and she was a young woman who was anxious to see him. He told Abbey he had an appointment to meet her in the theater and if Central Park, which is said, he kept, and found the widow in a brougham, in which the two drove away together."

An Evening World reporter who went to the West End Hotel and Long Branch this morning was told that Arthur Pate was not there, and that he knew nothing of his whereabouts. His name was not on the hotel register.

McCaffery in Richmond Jail. Furze McCaffery, who on Monday attempted to kill Jeremiah Lyons, a watchman on the Staten Island Rapid Transit Railroad at Tottenville, by putting a quiver of a pound of Paris green in his coffee, was this morning committed to the County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Lyons is out of danger.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla. Immediately his cough grew less, night sweats ceased, and he regained good general health. He cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla, especially to comrades in the G. A. R.

Hood's Pills cure habitual Constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Mr. Joseph Hemmerich. An old soldier, came out of the War greatly crippled by Typhoid Fever, and after being in various hospitals, the doctors discharged him as incurable with consumption. He has been in poor health since until he began to take

"TREADWELL'S"

SHOES TREADWELL THE WORLD OVER

TREADWELL MEANS DIRECT FROM THE MANUFACTURER.

WE HAVE ON HAND A LARGE SUPPLY OF STOCK OF Ladies' Oxford and Huntington Ties.

WE MEAN TO CLOSE THEM OUT AT ONCE AND TO DO THIS WE WILL OFFER THE FOLLOWING AT PRICES THAT WILL SELL THEM—NAMES:

LOT 1—LADIES' BRIGHT DONGOLA PATENT TIP HAND-SEWED OXFORD.

from $3.00 to $2.37.

LOT 2—LADIES' HUNTINGTON TIES, HAND-SEWED, FASTEST TRIMMINGS.

from $2.00 to $1.49.

LOT 3—LADIES' BRIGHT DONGOLA PATENT TIP, HAND-SEWED.

from $2.00 to $1.19.

LOT 4—LADIES' GENUINE RUSSIA CAFE, LACE SHOES.

from $3.50 to $2.50.

LOT 5—MEN'S RUSSIA CAFE, LACE AND BLUCHER.

worth $5.00, at $3.50.

TREADWELL SHOE MFG. CO.,

Cor. 16TH ST. AND 6TH AVE.

Flight Over a Railroad Station.

Several residents of Arverne by the Sea began proceedings today to enjoin the Long Island Railroad Company from removing the railway station from its present location. It is alleged that the Company intends to remove the depot to a location remote and inconvenient for many patrons of the road.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col. Mapleson on the Paris.

Col. Henry Mapleson and his wife, Madame Laura Schirmer-Mapleson, and the ubiquitous Mr. Marcus Mayer formed a smiling trio on the deck of the steamship City of Paris as she left for Liverpool this morning. A large party of friends saw them off.

Col